

Curriculum Vitae

David Richard Betton

Dave was born in Polokwane, South Africa in 1954. He is a mechanical engineer by profession. He spent all his working years with Gold Field of South Africa in the mining industry. The mines were scattered all over South Africa where the commodity ranged from coal, to gold to zinc to platinum. He worked his way up to Manger Engineering and at times General Manager. He spent the last 10 years consulting for the Mining Industry and retired in August 2017 from DRA Global as the Executive Vice President – Origination.

Dave's experience in operations and senior management positions on the mines will be an asset to Brackenridge in that various mines had their own villages. These villages, which were part of Dave's responsibility, were run and operated by the mine. There were up to 1000 houses in these villages with infrastructure that required suitable management and maintenance.

Dave is married to Astrid and they have two children. Astrid and Dave live at 33 Bitou Glade. He plays golf, has an old car and a boat.
